Description:

Rich in history and nostalgia, this property is one of the last homestead farms in Boulder County. The sunrise views of the Flatirons are breathtaking and there's a plethora of birds and other wildlife. You can fix-up the existing home or rebuild completely. The irrigated farm land produces a superb hay crop and acres for grazing livestock. Build a barn on the west parcel and bring the horses. The possibilities abound here. The charming scenic location is private and rural, yet close to everything -- only minutes from Boulder.
